D. CRITERIA FOR DISABILITY DISCHARGE

If a borrower whose prior loan was discharged due to a total and permanent disability wishes to take out another FSA loan, they must:

- 1. obtain a physician's certification (the student only needs to obtain the physician certification once)
2. submit a new borrower acknowledgment from the student each time they receive a new loan)
3. may also be required to resume payment on the discharged loan before receipt of the new loan. If the loan on which the borrower must resume payment was in default when it was discharged, it remains in default upon reinstatement, and the student must make satisfactory repayment arrangements before receiving the new loan, in addition to meeting the other requirements described.
4. A borrower who received a TPD discharge based on a determination from the VA and is unemployable due to a service-connected disability is not required to resume payment on the discharged loan as a condition for receiving a new loan. But they must still provide the physician's certification and borrower acknowledgment described above.

E. PHYSICIAN CERTIFICATION (to be completed by a legally licensed physician)

Physician's Name: Office Phone Number:

Address of Practice:

- I certify that the applicant's disability has improved, and that the applicant can engage in substantial gainful activity* as defined by the U.S Department of Education (see definition below).
I certify that, in my best professional judgment, the condition of the student named above has not improved enough to allow him or her to engage in substantial gainful activity*.

*For Title IV aid purposes, the phrase "substantial gainful activity" means a level of work performed for pay that involves doing significant physical or mental activities or a combination of both. If a physician's certification does not appear to support this status, the school will contact the physician for clarification.

Physician's Signature: Date:

*The U.S. Department of Education (ED) requires the necessary certification must be provided by a physician who is a Doctor of Medicine (DM) or a Doctor of Osteopathy (DO) and who is legally authorized to practice in a state. Warning: Any person who knowingly makes a false statement of misrepresentation on this form shall be subject to penalties, which may include fines or imprisonment under the United States Criminal Code.
